Parking Garage Wins Support; Street Plan Appears Flexible

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Center Merchants Association, after meeting with the town manager yesterday morning, voted unanimously to support the manager's proposal for a downtown parking garage and shopping center behind Town Hall, Andover Chamber of Commerce President Mary Doherty said yesterday.

But although downtown businesses will "stand behind the project 100 percent," Doherty said they are concerned about the possibility that parts of three streets will be closed to create a pedestrian mall — a concern that many area residents share.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said yesterday that plans for Park, Barnard and Bartlet streets are still not definite: the streets may be closed, or they may remain open with only one-way traffic permitted.

Merchants lining Park and Barnard streets think the proposal is "excellent," they told the selectmen Monday night, despite their doubts about the possible street closings.

Brian Jaymes of Justin's restaurant, Park Street, said merchants near Town Hall believe the plan for a three-story shopping center behind the town building and a $3.2 million parking garage at the Heartland Jr. site "will benefit everyone. It's something that needs to be done in this town, and we have an opportunity to do something now."

Appearing before the board with Jonathan Weber of Butler's Pantry and Vincent Dolan of Dolan's Seafood, both located on Barnard Street, Jaymes said the merchants would support funding for the 436-car garage at town meeting. The article, 55 on the 56-article warrant, will probably come before town meeting on April 5.

The selectmen voted to recommend approval of the article, with William Dalton abstaining because he is counsel for Channel Building Co.; Channel owner Robert Webster is a partner in the Heartland Jr. property. The article calls for a $2 million appropriation to build the parking garage, with the balance to be funded by state grants the town has already received.

The town manager last week announced his proposal to swap town land behind Town Hall for the Heartland Jr. parcel, which now belongs to Robert Finlayson and Robert Webster of Bartlet Realty Trust.

The partners had planned to renovate the grocery store into a shopping center, while the town had planned to build a garage behind Town Hall. Mahony suggested the swap because the Heartland parcel is more suitable for a garage than the town parcel.

Weber said switching the properties seems like "the ideal situation" because it would "keep the stores up front (closer to Main Street) and keep the parking in the rear."

Dolan added that he agreed "wholeheartedly" with the proposal and would "hate to miss an opportunity like this over some nitpicking."

However, the proposal currently calls for closing off Park and Barnard streets from Main Street to Bartlet Street, and closing Bartlet Street between Park and Barnard to create a pedestrian mall around the shopping center and garage. The merchants said closing off those streets might create unnecessary problems.

After listening to comments from area residents as well as the merchants, both the manager and selectmen indicated that plans for closing off the streets could be changed, with input from businesses and neighbors.

A pedestrian mall like the one at Boston's Quincy Market is busiest during the summer, Jaymes said. But in Andover, "the town rolls up in the summer. Here, we do our major business from September to April, during the New England winter. It's essential that we have at least some access for dropping people off."

Thomas Tsepas of Whittier Street told the board that area residents fear closing the streets would "make Whittier Street a main thoroughfare", with drivers seeking new

Industrial Road In Question

The developer of West Andover Industrial Tech Park will ask Town Meeting to accept one of their industrial roads — Shattuck Road — as a public street, but whether the Planning Board will support that request remains in doubt.

Representatives of Arkwright-Boston Insurance, the tech park developer, appeared before the planners Tuesday night seeking support for accepting Shattuck Road as a public way, Article 7 on the town meeting warrant.

The planners did not vote on recommending approval or disapproval of the article, but offered little encouragement to Arkwright.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade told the board it was "always my understanding that the internal road network in West Andover Industrial Park would remain private."

He called it a matter of "basic philosophy" and a "basic policy decision" on whether Andover should accept industrial streets — indicating that if Shattuck Road is accepted, other requests from industries will follow.

Appeals Board Filing Fees Increased

It will cost a bit more from now on to file a petition before the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The selectmen Monday night voted to increase the filing fee by $10, raising it from $25 to $35 for unregistered land, and from $35 to $45 for registered land.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony explained that new state law requires the town to file information the town was not required to file in the past, and the new fee will reflect that added work.

"This just meets our costs," the manager said. "It's not a money-maker."

The board voted unanimously to follow Mahony's recommendation to increase the filing fee.

Selectmen Give OK To Industrial Bonds

During an extremely brief public hearing, the selectmen Monday night voted to approve $3.150 million in industrial revenue bonds for the company that is renovating the two wings of East Junior High.

The board voted to approve the funding for Andover Office Associates, part of Channel Building Company, which is renovating the two wings for use as town and school offices. The developer will buy the wings and lease them to the town for 15 years, then sell them back to the town, as approved by special town meeting last November.

The Andover Industrial Finance Authority had already voted its preliminary approval of the bond request.

Selectman William Dalton, who has an interest in Channel Building, abstained from the vote.

Sidewalk Bazaar Dates Approved

With the selectmen's approval, the Andover Center Association will hold its annual Sidewalk Bazaar on Friday, June 24, and Saturday, June 25.

Main Street will be closed from Elm Square to Punchard Avenue during the event, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday and 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The merchants will also hold a road race on Saturday morning, starting at Elm Square and ending at Punchard Avenue.

Licenses' Permits Approved

Licenses for a new downtown gourmet shop and a permit for Rollins Cablevision were among the approvals granted by the Board of Selectmen during a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night.

The board granted a common victualler's license and a wine and beer retail license to What's Cooking, Inc., 93 R Main St., a new gourmet food shop that serves take-out only. Brenda Vigant of North Andover is manager of the shop.

Rollins Cablevision got permission to erect a new pole with wires and fixtures 137 feet east of an existing pole at the end of Walker Street, to bring cable TV service to residents of North Main Street, Union Street, Shepley Street and Binney Street, north of Route 495.

One-day all-alcoholic licenses were granted to the Christian Formation Center, River Road, for 7 p.m. to midnight March 11, 12 and 19, and 2 to 7 p.m. March 27.

And the Merrimack Valley Chapter of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation was given permission to hold its annual Friday Night Fiver Road Race at 6:30 p.m. Friday, June 3, subject to safety conditions set by the Police Department.

Band Group To Sponsor Dance As Fund-Raiser

The Andover Band Association is sponsoring a fund-raising dance at Merrimack Valley Motor Inn in North Andover April 9 from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m.

J.C. & Company will provide the music for dancing and the Andover High School Concert Band will play along with special guest, Dave Robichaud, on the drums.

Andover Resident Named Merrimack Vice President

Dr. E. Joseph Lee

Rev. William J. Murray, O.S.A.

The Rev. William J. Murray, O.S.A., an administrator at Merrimack College since 1959 and current vice president for student services, has announced that he will leave the North Andover college at the end of the academic year and will join an Augustinian parish in Southern Florida.

Dr. E. Joseph Lee of Andover, the present dean of admissions and financial aid, has been named as the new vice president for student services, effective June 1, 1983, it was announced by Merrimack College President Rev. John E. Deegan, O.S.A.

In his 24 years at Merrimack College, Fr. Murray has served in a variety of roles. Transferred to the Augustinian college in 1959, he served as director of guidance till 1960 when he was appointed dean of men. In 1970 he was named to his present position. Fr. Murray was also a professor of physics, mathematics and theology from 1959 to 1971 when he was appointed Prior of the Augustinian community, a position he held until 1979.

He has served on the Administrative Board, Budget Committee, Student Life Committee of the Board of Trustees, Athletic Council and the Scholarship Committee.

"After 24 years in student services I think it's time for me to move on to new challenges and to a different phase of my life," said Fr. Murray about his decision to leave Merrimack.

"I am leaving with mixed feelings as I'll miss the students and friends, but I've done all that I can at Merrimack College and it is time to move on," he explained.

Of his experiences in the student services area, the 61-year-old Augustinian priest remarked, "Work in the student services area at a college is very important, very priestly work. To help shape young people's lives is very rewarding."

In announcing Fr. Murray's decision to the college community, Merrimack President Rev. John Deegan remarked, "Through the sacrifice and devotion of individuals like Fr. Murray, Merrimack College is what it is today."

Rev. Deegan added, "Fr. Murray's love for and dedication to Merrimack College will be sorely missed."

Rev. Deegan pointed to Dr. Lee's "impressive service as the college's dean of admissions and financial aid since 1976 and his extensive background in higher education administration," as major reasons for his new appointment.

Dr. Lee was director of admissions from 1974-76 and director of career counseling and placement from 1971-74 at Framingham State College, in addition to his position at Merrimack College.

He also served as associate director of admissions at Assumption College from 1970-71, assistant director of admissions at Holy Cross from 1968-70 and admissions counselor at St. Michael's College in Vermont from 1966-68.

In 1981 Dr. Lee received his doctoral degree in Higher Education Administration from Boston College.

He earned a bachelor's degree in French literature and a master's in education and counseling from St. Michael's College.

A native of Bath, Maine, Dr. Lee resides in Andover with his wife, Carol Ann, and son, E. Joseph III.

If you're like most people, you watch a lot of TV programs you don't want to see. Simply because when you're ready to watch TV, you have no other choice.

That's why you should be watching cable. Today cable television offers a choice of programming so vast, you can turn on the set any time of day or night and see something you want to see.

Just a simple cable hook-up dramatically increases your choice of programs. And once you're hooked up, you can add commercial-free premium channels for a very modest price.

PAY CHANNELS WORTH EVERY PENNY YOU PAY.

If you love movies, the first premium channel you'll want is The Movie Channel. It's the only one that gives you great movies—uncut and uninterrupted 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

But just because The Movie Channel never takes a break from great movies doesn't mean you won't want to take one. That's why it's smart to have HBO in your cable line-up. It offers you concerts and big sporting events in addition to movies. With Showtime you'll even get to see variety specials and Broadway. And if vintage movies and foreign films intrigue you, make sure you add Cinemax.

THE PLEASURE OF HAVING MORE THAN ONE.

With several pay channels included in your cable line-up, you'll not only maximize your program choices, you'll also gain maximum flexibility over your entire viewing schedule. You can watch movies whenever you want; news whenever you want; sports whenever you want. You can watch virtually whatever you want, whenever you want.

So have your local operator connect you to cable. Then whenever you're ready for a terrific TV program, your TV will have one ready for you.

Trauma Center Open

Trauma, sudden violent injury to one or more of the body's vital organs, is the number one killer of Americans under 45, each year killing more Americans than were lost during the entire Viet Nam War.

In fact, President Ronald Reagan would have been numbered among these statistics following the attempt on his life, without the immediate life-saving trauma center care he received.

Tuesday, March 1, Lawrence General Hospital (LGH), Lawrence, officially implemented its trauma center program. The program will provide the system needed to mobilize necessary personnel and equipment which can mean the difference between death and complete recovery for victims of life-threatening trauma.

"The LGH trauma program is essentially a surgical program. It is the cooperation and support of the hospital's surgical staff and especially the commitment of its eight trauma surgeons which has made the program a reality," commented Joseph S. McManus, LGH acting executive director.

"The leadership of the Merrimack Valley Emergency Medical Services is also to be commended for first focusing attention on the need for a trauma program in the area," he continued.

LGH has the busiest emergency department in the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire and so the treatment of trauma program, LGH expects to treat at least three cases of life-threatening trauma a week.

"It is important to note that LGH was designated a level II trauma center and has transfer agreements using helicopter-air ambulance to the three Boston level I centers which handle open heart surgery, limb reattachment and special burn treatment," McManus said.

The main element of the trauma center program is the staff of eight general surgeons who have agreed to form a trauma roster and be on call and immediately available. They are Subhas Mullick, M.D., chief of the trauma service; Richard McCarthy, M.D.; Richard O'Hara, M.D.; Nick Perencevich, M.D.; Gokul Prakash, M.D.; Nicholas Sannella, M.D.; Michael Twomey, M.D.; and Sewi Sim Yu, M.D.

Their expertise is complemented by the full 24-hour availability of the hospital's emergency, operating and laboratory facilities and the communication system which links LGH with emergency medical personnel in the field.

"With the trauma program LGH will be better able to provide resuscitation, stabilization, diagnosis and treatment within the critical 'golden hour,'" explained Jose Silva, M.D., chief of emergency medical services. The "golden hour" refers to the first critical moments following a trauma accident when prompt treatment, most frequently surgery, can increase the patient's ability to achieve a full recovery.

Emergency medical technicians will identify victims of life-threatening trauma at the scene and notify the emergency department physician who will initiate the trauma call. While the patient is being transported, the trauma surgeon, anesthesiologist, operating room team and appropriate surgical specialists will be activated to accept the patient, thus providing an unbroken chain of treatment.

The LGH trauma center will serve the central and eastern Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire. Lowell General Hospital, the only other official trauma center for the Merrimack Valley, serves primarily the Lowell area.

"In the initial stages the trauma program will begin handling cases from Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover and the Salem/Windham, N.H., area. The second phase will extend the program to the Greater Haverhill area and the final phase will bring the remaining eastern Merrimack Valley into the program," McManus explained.

Trauma care is a team effort. By putting together the specialized training of its trauma team members to provide resuscitation, stabilization, diagnosis and definite treatment within the "golden hour" LGH will be working hard to return trauma victims to complete recovery.

Women And Violence Healthy Issues Topic

For a sensitive and informative look at preventing and dealing with various types of sexual assault and the incidence of battery in the lives of women, Bon Secours Hospital will present its March Healthy Issues program on "Women and Violence" on Wednesday, March 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital auditorium.

Kathy DeSalitz, a member of the Women's Resource Center in Lawrence, will discuss the incidence of battery, looking at what defines battery, why this type of physical violence occurs and how victims of battery can prevent the incident from happening again. She will provide a list of community resources available for battered women. Carol LeCompt, M.S.N., a certified clinical specialist in mental health, will outline the common procedures a sexual assault victim typically undergoes if she decides to go to a hospital, report the assault to the police or prosecute the perpetrator.

DeSalitz has trained various volunteer groups for managing hotlines for rape and battery and LeCompt is the coordinator of the sexual assault team for the Greater Lawrence Mental Health Center.

The day-long "Healthy Issues for Women" conference, originally planned for March will not be held due to budget cuts resulting from the enactment last fall of Chapter 372, Massachusetts' cost-containment law affecting hospitals.

Healthy Issues is a free monthly health education program offered as a public service of Bon Secours Hospital. For more information regarding this month's program, contact the hospital's community relations department.

Children's Theatre Production

Three years ago, 30 children, ages 6 to 12 years, and their directors, Pat Perrault and Julie Pike, presented the first Community Theatre for Children's production, "Winnie, the Pooh." Today, more than 70 children, ages 6 to 14 years old, and their directors, Josie Walker and Julie Pike, are busy with the group's fifth production, Maurice Sendak's "Really Rosie," music by Carole King.

The cast, crew and house staff are all children. The cast learns how to bring the script alive by speaking, acting, dancing and singing. The crew builds, paints and moves the set and props. The house staff is responsible for selling tickets at the door, handing out programs and seating the audience and also man the concession booth.

The children work diligently to present a finished performance. Support their efforts by joining them on March 18 and 19 at 7 p.m. or March 20 at 3 p.m. at the West Elementary School, Beacon Street, West Andover. Tickets are available at the door.

Museum Trip Is Planned

The Department of Community Services will leave from the high school parking lot for the Children's Museum in Boston at 12 noon on Sunday, March 13. The Children's Museum offers a varied recreational and educational experience for children of all ages and adults, too. Some fun things to do are climb inside a giant coffee cup or down a manhole, investigate the properties of bubbles, work on an assembly line, play games with computers, visit a native American wigwam and explore a turn-of-the-century Victorian house.

Adults may want to visit the Resource Center and get information about the services and materials offered for adults who work with children, and Recycle, a collection of industrial materials that are ideal for arts and crafts projects.

Archivist Examines Centuries Of Our Past In Town Hall

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Somewhere in the damp and dusty corners of the basement of Town Hall, historical records dating as far back as 1718 were waiting to tell their story. But they were hidden among piles and boxes of useless old records that spilled out of small storage vaults and across the floor.

That was last month, before Dr. Nicholas Olsberg and his "traveling team of archivists — an archivist S.W.A.T. team, someone once called us" — arrived at Town Hall. Before leaving last Friday, they spent eight days sorting and inventorying the town's records, bringing 'order out of chaos.'

"While people here were clearly conscious of the importance of historical material, the amount of records had grown so much, and had been transferred from place to place so many times, that records that were valuable were all intermingled with things of no worth," Dr. Olsberg explains. "The only storage available is in the attic and basement, and those areas had overflowed out of the vaults and onto the floor."

Anticipating this year's move from Town Hall to the East Junior High wings, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony says he "knew we were going to have to work with our paper before our move." He turned to Memorial Hall Library Director Nancy Jacobson, who suggested using a professional archivist to get Andover's old records into shape — and found Dr. Olsberg.

"Andover's kind of pathfinding in doing this — it's really a pioneer effort to use a professional team," the archivist says. "It's unusual for a town to realize that it does need outside help. They've proceeded with a good deal of intelligence."

Dr. Olsberg's work is also unusual. An archivist for 20 years, he is a former director of state archives for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Four years ago he began offering his services to "people who needed to get control" of their records, but didn't need a permanent archivist. His work takes him "from Toronto to Los Angeles. I believe I'm the only person doing this kind of work under contract full time."

A native of England who still has an engaging accent after 20 years in this country, he was educated at Oxford University and the University of South Carolina, where he received a doctorate in history. He also teaches at the University of Massachusetts in Boston, which offers the only master's program in archives in this area. (Archivists usually have a master's degree in history, with special training, or in library science.)

The task facing Dr. Olsberg and his staff — Amy Glendinning of Andover, Laurie Sullivan and Jim Casey — was to "hunt through all the accumulated trash of the years" stashed in Town Hall, "just to collect, gather and to list all records of historical value." (Although they looked through other town buildings as well, including schools, their emphasis was on Town Hall.)

Using guidelines issued by the state archives, they classified everything into one of three categories: records that must be saved for legal reasons, records that should be preserved for their historical value, and records that may be destroyed. The archivists have recommended destroying 300 cubic feet of old records — 300 to 350 boxes of records that Olsberg estimates would fill two or three offices.

"Our philosophy is that if you can't destroy the things you aren't going to need, you can't save the ones that are valuable," he explains. "You've got to be careful to keep as small a body of material as you're able. It has a much stronger chance of surviving that way."

Some records must, by law, be retained permanently: personnel records that could be used to establish a claim to employee benefits, for example. Others, such as cancelled checks, must be saved for a period of time. What's left — unless it has historical value — can be destroyed. (According to the town manager, Andover's outdated records may be offered to the Andover Recycling Committee; if the committee has no use for them, they will probably be incinerated at the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District disposal site.)

Deciding what has historical worth is not always simple. Documents like an 1840 listing of property valuations have obvious importance, but an archivist can't think of history as "just being old," Dr. Olsberg points out.

"What may be brand new today is history in twenty-five years. You have to make sure protection is provided for things that are quite contemporary." He looks for "anything that gives good light on what's going on in the community, or in society as a whole."

At Town Hall, he found 12- to 14-year-old Board of Health records on day care facilities that "didn't seem of any historical interest" in 1971. But "as we begin to look back on that era, the day care movement becomes very important, and those records become awfully significant."

A similar instance: records on tuberculosis patients from the 1920s also turned up among Board of Health papers. Those records were commonplace when the disease was rampant, but have acquired significance now that tuberculosis has almost disappeared.

To make sense of the daunting mass of file cabinets, papers, boxes and ledgers in Town Hall, the archivists "just began at the back of the cellar, starting to label everything, walked all the way through and ended up on the fourth floor under the eaves," Dr. Olsberg says. He adds with a smile, "It's the kind of work that's an absolutely perfect blend between using your brains and your body."

The team endured unappealing working conditions in the basement: low ceilings lined with pipes and cobwebs, musty air, cramped spaces and poor lighting (in some unlighted corners, they had to work with flashlights).

They cleaned out two small, brick-lined vaults and one large, more modern storage area, removing disposable records to make room for important materials. One small vault now has been reserved for the town treasurer's and accountant's financial records, another for tax valuations, and the large vault, for valuations and permanent records that need to be most accessible.

Their work has uncovered such fascinating records as large and fragile street maps, plot plans and architectural drawings dating back to 1718, and nineteenth-century tax valuations in small, neat script describing every property in town: the acreage and dwellings, the amount of land planted in barley or corn, the number of cows and chickens. Those ledgers were discovered tucked behind 20-year-old records in one of the vaults.

And in addition to the records typical of every New England town, the archivists have found some unusual ones. In their role as overseers of the poor, the Board of Selectmen kept good records on aid to the indigent, and on aid to the families of soldiers in service to the Civil War. Early valuations of textile mills help trace their development in Andover, and school records dating back to 1828 are "unusually good," Dr. Olsberg says.

Records of dog licenses issued a hundred years ago were also laying around the basement. There's no legal reason to keep them, the archivist notes, but "I'm inclined to hold onto the odd volume or two, just for curiosity."

"There isn't ever a day when you don't find something interesting," he notes. But however tempting it might be, the archivist can't become absorbed in what he finds. "You can't afford to get sidetracked at all. We try not to read any more than necessary — it's up to others to come back and read through it."

Dr. Olsberg has found that records produced before 1923 are most worth preserving, because at that point the state and federal governments began to assume many of the responsibilities of town officers, and "town government becomes more and more uninteresting."

"We regard everything before 1923 as probably of historical value, even if we have permission for it to be destroyed. That doesn't mean that everything after that is unimportant, but after that period the work the town does is increasingly concentrated on planning, building schools and taxation."

The archivist feels strongly that the town's historical records should be available to the public, and should be kept by the town — not by the Historical Society, which preserves private materials. "Anything produced in the course of operating the town belongs to the town," he explains. "These things belong to the people."

Looking into the future, he predicts a whole new set of problems for archivists created by two twentieth-century innovations: the computer and the copying machine, "the cruelest invention for archivists."

The computer word processor has made it easier for people to "produce words on paper" and churns out yards of "tremendously unwieldy" printout sheets, while the copying machine turns out useless copies (useless to the archivist, who needs only one) and lets office workers become careless about organizing files. "Office files are growing and growing," Dr. Olsberg says. "It's becoming more and more problematical."

Years Of Records

Town House vaults have held records dating back centuries and have been examined by Archivist Dr. Nicholas Olsberg and his staff in anticipation of municipal offices moving out within the next year. Top photo shows an old vault in the basement of the building with old ledgers and record books. At left, Dr. Olsberg with staff member Laurie Sullivan in a financial records vault.

The result of the work the traveling team of archivists has done in Andover: Town Hall's four vaults have been cleared of worthless clutter and filled with valuable records. Many records of interest to the public will be kept on microfilm at Memorial Hall Library, along with a listing of the public records that can be seen at Town Hall.

Dr. Olsberg has also left recommendations for cleaning and conserving important documents, and proposes that he be asked to return to help set up new storage facilities when town offices are moved to the old junior high.

He has also suggested that the responsibility for preserving records be given to one person — perhaps the town clerk — in place of the present system of letting each town board and commission care for its own records.

"This isn't by any means the end of the work," he points out. "Archives grow infinitely over the years, and you have to try to keep the amounts as small as you can. You have to take care of both the old and the new, or you lose them all."

With his work completed, "for the first time, town officers know everything they have of historical value, and know how to put their fingers on it," Dr. Olsberg says.

"It's always a tremendous pleasure to bring order out of chaos — and to know that what you have preserved is of value."

Choral Group Presents 'Revels'

"They Say 'Tis Love," an evening of Elizabethan revelry, masquerade and song will be presented Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19, at 8 p.m. at the Pike School, Andover. These third annual "Revels" are given in celebration of the vernal equinox, the official commencement of spring and merri-ment.

The regional semi-professional chorus now 13 years old is comprised of singers from 14 towns and is under the musical direction of Marie Stultz. The chorus has performed widely in the North Shore and Greater Boston areas.

The original book by Marie Stultz presents the spring gathering of the court of great King Henry and his queen for a masquerade ball with attendant intrigue and mistaken identity. Interwoven are choral and ensemble pieces of Morley, Bennett, Isaac and Byrd, including the popular "Come Ye Sons of Art" of Purcell. A traditional consort accompanies the singers; authentic Elizabethan courtly dress and demeanor costume the cast.

Tim Sprattler of Andover plays King Henry with Sigrid Perkins of North Reading as his dutiful queen. Loyal Filch, Shelley Gilbert of North Andover, helps advance the king's plans for frivolity. Star-struck lovers are played by Donna Sousa of Bradford and Terry Rawlins of Reading. Estelle Puzo of North Reading and Rick Isaacs of Acton are nobles unwittingly involved in the courtly intrigues. The interwoven tales of Elizabethan amusements and song are told by John Kimball of Andover.

"Revels" is underwritten in part by a grant from the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities, a state agency. Tickets are limited and may be purchased from a North Parrish Choral Society member, Sandi Rehe, manager, Thompsons in Andover and North Shore Printing in North Reading. Tables of 10 may be reserved. Cheese and hors d'oeuvres will be served and wine and beer will be available for purchase.

Singing in "Revels" are the following Andover residents: Toni Czekanski, Lorna DiMeo, Carol Levitt, Dana and Sandi Rehe, Alix Driscoll, Terrie Reid, Tim Sprattler and John Kimball, accompanied by Karin Kohl.

Bridge Club To Host Tourney

Greater Lawrence bridge players will join thousands of others throughout North America on Thursday, March 17, in a competition to benefit the National Kidney Foundation.

The Andover Duplicate Bridge Club, an affiliate of the American Contract Bridge League, is sponsoring a section of the Spring ACBL-Wide Charity Game with play starting at 7:30 p.m. at the November Club, Locke Street, Andover. In this unique competition every player in every game in every city will play the exact same hands under near identical conditions. The pair with the best percentage score on the computer-dealt hands will be the winner.

All interested bridge players in the area are invited to participate. Prizes will be presented to the national winners as well as winners in each of the 25 districts within ACBL. Master points will be awarded to all those who finish well in each and every game locally. Proceeds from the game will be distributed through the ACBL Charity Foundation to the National Kidney Foundation as a memorial for Alvin Landy, former executive secretary of both the ACBL and the ACBL Charity Foundation.

Local chapters of the National Kidney Foundation will benefit directly from a special grant voted by the ACBL Trustees to be given in the names of the winners in their playing location. A donation of $1,000 will be made in the name of the national winners, with a $750 donation in the name of the runners-up and a $500 donation for third place. A $250 donation will be made in the names of each of the remaining U.S. pairs who win in their districts.

Health Director Issues Advisory On Asbestos

Recent publicity concerning the public health implications of exposure to asbestos has prompted a number of inquiries of public health officials relating to proper procedures for dealing with the problem in a residential setting.

Everett F. Penney, Jr., director of public health in Andover, notes that questions and telephone calls related to this problem have quadrupled in recent weeks.

The most frequently asked questions relate to determination of whether residences in fact have asbestos and what to do if its presence is confirmed. The initial determination should be made by a firm which has had experience in handling and disposal of this material. Penny stated: "There are two firms I have been able to identify in this area which have done encapsulation and removal work in residential settings. They are National Surface Cleaning in Methuen and Dec Tam Corporation in Tewksbury. Our department has had to deal with 15 to 20 asbestos release incidents in the past months, and the most critical problem we've encountered is the lack of knowledge about handling of this most dangerous material by the general public and fly-by-night repairmen."

Penny further explains that the Mass. Department of Quality Engineering (D.E.Q.E.) is technically responsible for enforcing regulations relative to asbestos control. "State air pollution regulations govern asbestos handling and disposal. The regional office personnel and the Federal Environmental Protection Agency people all take the position that asbestos is not an immediate problem as long as it is contained, that is, encapsulated or sealed. It is only when it becomes friable, broken, damaged or loose and can be released in the ambient air, that it becomes a danger to health." Mesothelioma, a lung cancer, and asbestosis are the health problems most commonly associated with asbestos contamination.

"Homeowners who are not familiar with handling techniques and do not have protective gear, approved air masks and protective garments, should never attempt to do removal or repair work themselves," Penny said. "My recommendation is that they call a firm which has done the work previously and request an evaluation of their home. Both firms that I have dealt with will do this free of charge and will provide you with recommendations and a cost estimate for repair or removal." The D.E.Q.E. regional office personnel in Woburn (935-2160) can answer questions relating to asbestos.

Chess Tourney At Junior High

Andover West Junior High School will host the Massachusetts Scholastic team Chess Championship preliminaries for the northeast region on Sunday, March 13.

It will be the first time a State Scholastic Chess Tournament has been held in Andover.

The King's Rook Chess Club of West Jr. High School will field two teams of five players each.

The team, supervised by Chet Orban, invites all schools from the area to participate. Sections range from elementary to high school.

For information, contact Steven Dann, president of Mass. Chess Association, 97 Granite St., Worcester, or Chet Orban, West Junior High School, Andover.

DeAngelis On Panel

Richard DeAngelis, owner of Backstreet Restaurant in Andover, will serve as a VIP panelist on the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society's annual Telethon on WXNE-TV, Channel 25 in Boston during the March 26-27 weekend.

As a VIP panelist he is responsible for securing support for Easter Seal services both before and during his appearance on the Telethon. Last year VIP panelists accounted for some 30 percent of the total monies raised on the state Telethon.

The 21-hour Eastern Massachusetts Telethon will be hosted by Janet Jeggelian of WRKO Radio, Jan Holmes of WCVB-TV, Channel 5, and Chris Clausen of WXNE-TV, Channel 25. In 1982 the National Telethon raised a record-setting 19.5 million dollars.

Eight Andover residents are among the more than 70 antique dealers selected for the antique show and sale March 19 and 20 at the sports center of Merrimack College, North Andover.

Sponsored by the Aid Association of Lawrence General Hospital, the show will follow the theme, "Charm of Antiques." Tickets will be available at the door.

Among Andover dealers are Dorris Hood and Barbara Bennet who own Collectiques of Andover and Georgetown located in Georgetown. They carry a general line of antiques, especially glass, china, early kitchen decorative objects plus some furniture, quilts and linens.

"Real antique buffs go to shops as well as shows for the joy of antiquing," commented Bennet, who with her partner has been buying and selling antiques for 12 years.

Marion Bock and her partner, Hope Nutter of Lynnfield, own the Primitive Past specializing in country and primitive objects including quilts, trunks, pine furniture, crocks, rocking chairs and lamps from unusual objects such as candle molds. They have sold at shows for the past six years. They also specialize in refinishing and refurbishing small furniture, repairing and putting together old quilt tops and making mirrors from old window frames with unusual shapes such as tops of old church windows.

The Poster Barn Gallery, owned by Barbara Fine, specializes in original posters dating from the 1890s to the 1940s. They include works by Mucha, Cheret, Cassandre and Penfield covering a wide range of topics such as theatre, ballet, opera and travel.

"The antique prints create a decorative charm for small areas. We have a large selection of Japanese, sporting, golfing, cooking, marine, floral, medical, legal and fashion," Fine said.

The gallery began in 1976 and has exhibited at Brandeis Rose Art Museum, Danforth Museum, Newton Art Center and the Junior League Decorator Show House.

"Antique prints and posters are a wonderful way to add warmth and charm when decorating one's home or office," Fine said stressing the importance of buying a print because it pleases you.

The Blue Cow is strictly a part-time and possibly a retirement business for David and Eleanor Campbell. They got into the business by giving antiques as wedding gifts to two of their children. This led them to start collecting. In September they started doing antique shows specializing in glassware and small decorative items. They enjoy the way people meet at the shows, both customers and other dealers. "Collect what you enjoy," they advise.

Leah Perlberg has been doing antique shows for 12 years as Antiques and Such. She specializes in decorative antiques. "I buy what excites me and what I think would look beautiful in a room," she commented.

She has an eclectic approach to selecting the antiques she sells and enjoys making something out of nothing. Her selection includes jewelry, china, dog objects, door stops, silver, glass and frames.

Perlberg wants people to be happy with what they buy and have it grow with the person. "Collecting antiques is a way to express one's individuality and personal feelings," she said.

David Rogers who has owned Antiquarian Books since 1977 specializes in out-of-print material, primarily non-fiction. His special focus is on New England and arts and crafts. He will have local maps for sale. A highlight of his booth will be an antique book press (for display only).

Rogers started in business because of his love of books which he was always collecting. He holds a masters in international affairs from Columbia University. At the University of Denver he took courses in book selling and learned about antiquarian books.

The show will be handled by Olde Mystic Antique Shows and will include furniture, china, glass, books, quilts, linens, decorator objects, oriental items, maps and jewelry.

Luncheon will be available and will include homemade corn chowder, a hot dog smorgasbord including chili dogs and an assortment of other toppings as well as sauerkraut. Wine and cheese will be available as well as salad with poppy seed dressing and homemade pastries of lemon squares, raspberry dream bars and frosted brownies.

Sodium perborate, available at the drug store, is a safe bleach for cotton, linen, wool and rayon.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Hurry down to The Haven if you want to go to the Flower Show March 15. There are only a few seats left for this special spring event. The trip includes luncheon at Boston's Harborlights Restaurant (choice of roast beef or scrod) and all for $18. Stop by the center and sign up today.

Reservations for the matinee performance of "Chorus Line" are going fast. This prize-winning musical has racked up nine Tony awards and a Pulitzer Prize. We'll travel to the Shubert Theater in Boston, Wednesday, March 23, and enjoy orchestra seats, plus the luxury of transportation right to the door, for $28.

It is not too early to sign up for the classic ballet, "Swan Lake," on Sunday afternoon, April 24, at Boston's Colonial Theater. Orchestra seats and transportation will cost $28.

Town elections are March 28, and in order to be informed voters you will want to attend the Candidates Forum at the senior center, Thursday, March 24, at 2 p.m. Come prepared to ask questions and get to know the people who will represent you in town government!

St. Patrick's Day will be celebrated at The Haven, under the direction of The Haven Associates. They are planning a special program — a filmed trip to the Emerald Isle presented by Millie Matasso, well known in the area for her special work. Come on down and celebrate the "wearing of the green" March 17 at 2 p.m.

Two new classes will start at the center March 27 — Introduction to Water Colors and Basic Drawing. Cost for each is $7.50 and you must register in advance.

We hope you haven't forgotten to sign up for the April 20 Spring Fling! It will be held at the Danversport Yacht Club. George Littel of Gateway Travel in Winchester has put together a special dinner show in the Harborview Ballroom of the club. There will be a family-style roast beef dinner, followed by some great entertainment featuring the "Two by Fours," a fine singing group of men with 20 years together, plus the Jo Bridges Line Dance Team. You'll have a chance to sing and dance along with them — and all for $20! This includes transportation to and from the yacht club, of course.

April 15 is now only weeks away. If you are having difficulty preparing your tax returns, help is available at The Haven. Call for an appointment.

Library Displays

Displays of three widely diverse subjects are in Memorial Hall Library this week. March 7-13 is Women's History Week and books of some of America's most famous and fascinating females are on display along with a "Test Your Knowledge of Women" quiz. Some of the information for this display was provided by the local chapter of NOW.

March 13-19 is National Surveyors Week and an unusual display of models, equipment, maps and books on surveying and civil engineering has been prepared by local surveyor Robert Goodwin. Of special interest is the analysis of Stonehenge and the evidences of engineering capabilities of early civilizations.

Over 100 years ago, local millowner John Smith provided the impetus for the founding of Memorial Hall Library. Last month his granddaughter, Mary Byers Smith, died in Boston at the age of 97. An exhibit in her memory, including pictures, poems and books by Mary Byers Smith, provided by the Andover Historical Society and the Memorial Hall Library archives, will be on display in the main reading room for the month of March.

Road

He added that the road would require more maintenance than a typical residential road. The four-lane, 2,700-foot roadway currently has some "technical" problems that need to be corrected, McQuade said, but those problems could possibly be remedied before town meeting convenes on April 4, depending on the weather.

Steven Kasnet of R.M. Bradley, real estate agent for Arkwright, said the developer now owns less than 60 acres in the 650-acre park, with 30 of those acres under option to GCA. He argued that Arkwright will soon have no interest in the park, and should be "relieved of the responsibility" of maintaining Shattuck Road.

He added that the park generates $1 million in tax revenues for Andover every year, at a "negligible cost" to the town. Maintaining the road would cost the town approximately $9,500 a year, $8,000 for lawn care and $1,500 for snow removal.

Kasnet called the park "quite unique", and said it cannot be compared to other industrial properties in town, because parcels along the road are owned by different companies rather than one owner.

Chairman Jerry Greer asked if companies along the street might be willing to share responsibility for maintaining it. Kasnet replied that two companies have already indicated they are not willing to take that responsibility, because they believe the town should maintain the street.

Prevention of Blindness, was shown. Amblyopia, commonly referred to as lazy eye, is a condition of reduced or dim vision in an eye which appears to be normal. If undetected, a child often suffers permanent damage to his eyesight. It can be corrected if discovered early enough.

The Amblyopia Committee includes Jane Shepard, Sue DeBenedictus, Linda Trimble, Pat Chalfin and Andy Larsen.

To Discuss Prison Moratorium

Anne R. Barrett

Anne Rhodenbaugh Barrett, director of U.S. Programs for the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee (UUSC), a non-sectarian human rights organization, will speak at the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Andover at the November Club, 6 Locke St., at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 15. A videotape, "Help Me to Fight," a moving documentary on the problems of women in prison will be shown. This will be followed by discussion led by Barrett, outlining reasons behind UUSC's call for a national moratorium on further prison construction as well as the criminal justice system and the effects prisons have on women and men prisoners and their children.

Before joining UUSC in 1979, Barrett was active with a variety of social concerns, specifically aging, health, hunger and woman's rights. She is credited with the development of a number of innovative projects and course studies in the human service field and has held teaching positions at Brandeis with the Upward Bound program, the University of Kentucky and the University of New Hampshire where she served as director of continuing education and coordinator of the Nursing Home Education Project in the Department of Women's Studies. She attended Boston University and has an M.Ed. and C.A.S. degree from Harvard.

With a more than 40-year history of recognized programs in many areas, UUSC also operates internationally, supporting indigenous groups involved in social change and community development in Central America, agricultural development in South America, family planning and health in the Caribbean and West Africa and women's rights in India.

South Church Adds Counselor

Katherine Kallis

January marked the beginning of an expanded ministry at South Church in Andover as Katherine Kallis joined the staff as their Minister of Counseling. The increasing need to expand the pastoral services prompted South Church to undertake the year-long search for a counseling minister.

A recent honors graduate from Andover Newton Theological School, Mrs. Kallis holds a Master's degree in Divinity with an emphasis in counseling. She is associated with the Greater Lowell Pastoral Counseling Center where she is engaged in individual, couple and family psychotherapy. Bringing a variety of experience as a teacher, wife, mother and director of Bible studies, retreats, workshops and Adult Ministries, Mrs. Kallis believes that "the Counseling Ministry, in the context of the parish, is full of possibility for the healing power of the Spirit."

According to the South Church introductory brochure, "Pastoral counseling seeks to integrate the insights of religion and psychology in order to help persons take responsibility for their lives. Stress and suffering are inevitable in all of our lives. From time to time we need to enter into a close relationship with another person who can facilitate our coping and our growth. We may wish to clarify our concerns, take a fresh look at obstacles and options and solve problems that keep us from living fully. The underlying assumptions of pastoral counseling are found in the Judeo-Christian tradition: the integrity of the search for and trust in God, the primacy of our relationship to each other and the dignity and worth of each person."

Katherine Kallis joins Rev. David T. Melvin and Rev. Dr. Westy A. Egmont in a shared pastoral service of South Church. For further information, contact the church office.

Mrs. Kallis and her husband, Jack, live in Hingham with their two sons, John and Mark.

Lectures In Nebraska

Dr. John Dalphin, an Andover resident and associate professor of sociology at Merrimack College, was a recent guest lecturer at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

His address on "The Persistence of Social Inequality in America" was presented as part of a college-wide lecture series at the university.

Dalphin's book, "The Persistence of Social Inequality in America," was published by Schenkman Publishing Company in Cambridge.

CPR Courses

Choate-Symmes Health Services, Inc., will offer a Basic Rescue CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) course at the Symmes Hospital Division in Arlington on Mondays, March 14, 21 and 28, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Basic life support techniques will include artificial respiration (mouth-to-mouth breathing) and artificial circulation (chest compressions) for use in treating victims of heart attack, drowning, choking and other life threatening accidents. Students are taught to recognize early symptoms of heart attack, how to prevent complications, how to reassure the victim and methods of obtaining emergency help.

When an accident or illness occurs in which a victim's heart stops or breathing ceases, he must be resuscitated within four to six minutes in order to insure recovery without brain damage. Artificial respiration restores oxygen to the lungs and artificial circulation pumps oxygenated blood to the brain. CPR training is especially recommended to families of people with heart problems.

The technique for relieving an obstructed airway is also taught.

The American Heart Association, through which students are certified in CPR, recommends that those who have received training in CPR refresh their skills every year. A recertification class is scheduled at Symmes on Monday, March 7, and Wednesday, March 30, from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Attendance at only one of the classes is required.

Erwin H. Neal, Active Supporter Of Youth

Erwin H. Neal

Erwin H. "Pop" Neal, 68, 326 South Main St., Andover, who had run the clock for Andover High basketball games for the past 25 years, died Monday at Lawrence General Hospital, following a long illness.

Honored a year ago for his active support and participation with Andover High athletics, Warrior Basketball Coach Wil Hixon, in his tribute termed Mr. Neal, "A friend, gentleman and sportsman. His honesty, friendliness, and expertise have been a hallmark of what our program stands for."

Mr. Neal, father of School Committee Chairman Richard Neal, was active in other areas of youth athletics as well.

Born in Dover, N.H. where he was an outstanding athlete, he moved to North Andover in 1937 and then to Andover in 1954.

He had officiated basketball, football and baseball, before becoming involved in the Little League baseball movement and spending 25 years as District 14 Little League Commissioner.

Mr. Neal also coached and organized Junior League and Babe Ruth baseball teams and leagues as well as church league basketball activities.

When his son, Richard, then a teacher in the Andover school system, was named an assistant basketball coach, "Pop" as he was soon to become known began handling the timer at Andover High basketball home games. He continued until last year when failing health compelled him to surrender the buttons, but not his interest. He continued to be an ardent supporter of Andover High athletics and attended many of this year's games until he was hospitalized.

Prior to his retirement, he was employed as an office manager of J. P. Stevens' Marland Mills and the Pacific Mills in Lawrence. He was a member of First Methodist Church, North Andover.

He is survived by his wife, Florence (Hatch) Neal, director of Mother Goose Nursery School in Andover for 43 years; sons, Richard E., chairman of the Andover School Committee, and John M. of Salem, N.H.; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Corbett of Peace Dale, R.I.; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at Dewhirst and Conte Funeral Home, 13 Third St., North Andover. Burial will be in Newfield, N.H.

Wilfred J. LaRoche

Wilfred J. LaRoche of 37 Topping Road, Andover, an area resident throughout his life, died March 6 at Bon Secours Hospital after a brief illness. He was 71.

A Lawrence native, Mr. LaRoche was a retired custodian for the Andover schools, and had been employed by Tyer Rubber Co. in Andover for many years. Garage, Library, River Road Win Support Of Selectmen

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Preparing for the April 4 annual town meeting, the Board of Selectmen Monday night voted to recommend approval of all but one of the 38 articles inserted by town officials on the 56-article warrant. The board took no action on 18 private articles inserted by townspeople.

The articles that promise to be most controversial — funding for a library addition, a downtown parking garage and improvements to River Road — close out the warrant as Articles 54, 55 and 56.

The selectmen voted unanimously to approve a proposal to sell Memorial Hall Library to a private developer who will complete an addition, then lease the building to the town for up to 40 years before the town buys back the building. Town meeting approved a similar plan for remodeling two East Junior High wings last fall; the proposal is expected to save the town money because a private developer can take advantage of federal tax credits to complete the renovations.

With William Dalton abstaining, the board also voted to recommend approval of a $2 million appropriation to swap land behind Town Hall for the Heartland Jr. site, and build a town parking garage on the former grocery store property. (Dalton abstained because he is an attorney for Robert Webster of Channel Building, and Webster has an interest in the Heartland property.)

And the board will recommend that town meeting approve a $1 million appropriation to improve River Road to accommodate industrial traffic that is expected to use that road in the years ahead. Town Manager Kenneth Mahony noted that even if area residents are not happy with current plans for the roadway, they must acknowledge that some improvements are needed — and funds should be appropriated as quickly as possible. The manager expects federal and state grants to help fund that project.

Among the other articles the selectmen will ask voters to approve: a $675,000 transfer from available funds to purchase a hook and ladder, police and fire communications equipment and a school computer; a $50,000 appropriation to renovate the Shawsheen playing fields; a $250,000 appropriation for improvements to Spring Grove Cemetery; and $1.3 million to construct new water mains.

The board also voted to recommend approval of a new provision in the winter parking ban that will let police tow offending vehicles; a zoning bylaw amendment to allow apartments within homes in the SRC district; a repeal of the zoning bylaw that lets merchants count adjacent municipal parking lots as part of their required parking; and a resolution on safety rules for joggers that Dalton predicted "might be the only thing to get a quorum" on the warrant.

They delayed voting on Article 53, which would accept a state law giving police officers pay increases for completing certain college credits.

A series of private articles early in the warrant (Articles 7 through 17) ask for acceptance of 11 private streets as public ways, including Shattuck Road in West Andover's Industrial Tech Park. The board will consider laying out those streets for acceptance on March 30; if the board does not lay out the streets, they will not come before the meeting.

The streets up for acceptance are Sioux Circle, Cheyenne Circle, Wabanaki Way, Shawnee Circle, Pheasant Run, Quail Run, Blueberry Circle, Peterof Circle, Cattle Crossing and Roulston Circle.

Architect's Model Of Library And Addition

$4M Addition To Library Would Be Through Building Lease

An addition to Memorial Hall Library, long sought after by trustees, would cost between $3.7 and $4 million dollars and would be accomplished through sale of the building and a lease back to the town.

Town Manager Kenneth R. Mahony outlined the proposal to the library trustees and staff Tuesday afternoon along with showing a model of the proposed structure.

The proposal will be presented to the April 5 town meeting as Article 54, and, if approved, will result in construction getting underway in the spring of 1984, with a completion date of summer, 1986.

Mahony estimated the lease cost to be $455,000 annually to the town.

The 30,000 square foot addition will more than double the present library facility and will accommodate the space needs, as projected, for the currently overcrowded library.

The plan provides contiguous space on all levels to the west of the existing structure. The addition will also include an on-grade additional level which will house the children's collection and building service functions.

A new rear entrance at the lower level will serve patrons from an adjacent municipal parking lot.

The updated building will have elevator service to all levels, additional meeting rooms available for town and organization use, enlarged reading room and reference service areas, as well as increased stack space for books.

Memorial Hall Library currently services 800-1,000 patrons per day. Circulation figures for 1982 indicate 350,000 items were borrowed from the library, or approximately 12 books and/or records per capita for the year.

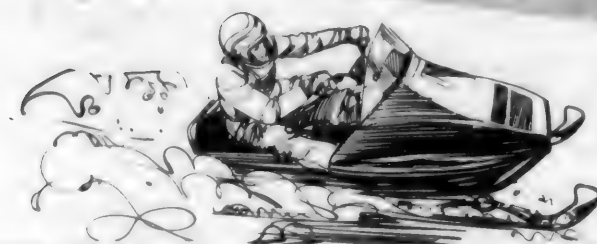

The sale of the building and lease back to the town would be approved by the Library Trustees and the selectmen, and is designed to minimize the cost of the addition to the taxpayers.

The plans have been drawn by the Boston architectural firm of Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson and Abbot.

Attending the Tuesday session were Trustee Chairman Robert Butler, Friends of the Library President Priscilla Seewald, Director Nancy Jacobson and Selectman Chairman Norma Gammon.

Town, Merchants Deserve Development

The announcement this past week that the town is planning a garage and shopping mall in the downtown area should be greeted with enthusiasm.

The proposal calls for the town to use some state funds, combined with local appropriations and swap land behind town hall for the development of a shopping/office mall. This would allow the construction of the parking garage on the site now occupied by the vacated Heartland Jr. store.

All of this action will be placed before the voters at the annual town meeting.

The proposal gives to the town the opportunity to further develop the downtown Andover area, providing additional stores for the convenience of Andover shoppers and visitors.

It also responds to a dire need for parking space in the downtown area, so long talked about and for so many years passed over in favor of other items.

Looking to the future, with town offices removed from the Town House, that building will also be available for development, with the retention of its present appearance, thus providing the potential for some exciting concepts for development of the Main, Park, Barnard streets corridor.

The shopping mall will be developed through private enterprise. Should the town reject the development proposal as presently assembled, the developers will return to the Heartland Jr. property and build there, but probably not as aesthetically comfortable as the municipal parking lot location behind town hall.

The parking garage will be built with in excess of $1 million in state funds and the remainder subscribed to town funds.

It is a reasonable proposal.

Over the years Andover's merchants have constantly attempted to resolve parking problems in the downtown area, each proposal meeting with rejection by Andover voters at town meeting.

There has been from time to time an unrealistic assumption that merchants should underwrite their own parking facilities, based on the false assumption that since they are in business, their profits should be assigned to such commercial area improvement.

But, Andover merchants, for the most part, are not part of some large corporate body, or members of large commercial chain operations.

They are Andover neighbors with a sincere interest in their community and its betterment, contributing to its civic life through participation in a variety of ways.

And, despite the rejection of parking facilities and other business-oriented requests over the years, the Andover business people have continued to serve the townspeople and visitors with the same courtesies and interest in the community.

Such feeling was maintained even during periods when commercial requests were turned down, while the town was appropriating millions for extension of utilities and improved roads in the West Andover and Lowell Junction industrial parks to attract industry to the town.

It is not, then, unreasonable to ask the townspeople to provide this much needed parking facility and to provide improvement to the overall downtown area.

Its location is far better than the initial proposal to place the parking facility at the base of the Memorial Hall Library addition, which would have represented a cumbersome uphill climb for its patrons.

It will provide spaces for all-day parkers---those who work in the downtown area and need such facilities.

It will provide space for commuters, many of whom are Andover residents who earn their living in Boston.

The proposal provides the town with probably its last opportunity to come up with a development of this type, since state funding will not be extended.

Frankly, it just appears to be the stimulus needed to make a pleasant shopping-business area even better.

Local Aid: Round One

The next few months represent a critical period on Beacon Hill as Governor Dukakis and the Legislature grapple with the difficult task of molding a state budget for fiscal year 1984 which begins July 1.

Teachers, parents, town officials and interested citizens will be watching the budget debate anxiously, realizing that the future quality of life in their communities depends in large part on the actions of their legislators. Proposition 2½ has made local aid the hottest item in the state budget.

Rep. Sue Tucker

There are three components to the local aid issue: 1) The total amount of state revenue appropriated for local aid. 2) The formulas by which this total amount is distributed to individual cities and towns. 3) The timing of such aid in the local fiscal-planning process.

Gov. Dukakis, who last week unveiled his proposed budget, wants 30 percent of the budget—$2.2 billion—designated for local aid, an increase of $151 million over 1983. This $151 million increase represents 40 percent of the projected growth in state revenues (sales, income and corporate taxes) in fiscal year 1984, fulfilling a Dukakis campaign pledge.

While this amount is generally perceived as adequate to compensate for Prop. 2½ losses, the real battle will begin over the second component—distribution formulas, which will be proposed in April. Currently, the Governor is working with a broad coalition to develop fair, equitable and politically feasible formulas for general aid and aid to education.

Overriding all debate over "who gets how much" is the third, and perhaps most critical component, timing. For the last several years cities and towns have been forced to prepare their budgets for town meeting with no hard information from the state as to the amount of local aid to expect. The unfairness and inefficiency of this system is appalling. Volunteers spend countless hours preparing best and worst-case budgets; teachers receive lay-off notices; morale falls among municipal employees.

Controversy over distribution formulas as well as the proposed cigarette and gasoline tax hikes is likely to make this another late year. One of my highest priorities this session is Local Aid Entitlement legislation which, in conjunction with a permanent distribution formula, will enable cities and towns to accurately predict their aid by April of each fiscal year (beginning in F.Y. 1985).

As a legislator, I feel that state government has a political and economic contract with Massachusetts citizens to make Propo-

Dismayed Over Garage

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I note with dismay the cost estimates for the proposed parking garage on the Purity Supreme property. The estimated 3.2 million works out to $7,339 for each of the 436 spaces. It also works out to $128 for every man, woman and child of our approximately 25,000 people, or $640 for each of our approximately 5,000 households! This is sheer insanity!

Most people will not walk to the downtown stores from that location, so we would be spending this incredible sum for the benefit of the few bus riders that commute to Boston. At night the building would become a hangout. We would be on the hook for long-term expenses for security and maintenance. Furthermore, just painting lines on the pavement, no garage, would yield about 200 spaces, so the remaining 200 odd extra spaces would actually cost over $14,000 each.

I submit that since the town offices are being moved to the East Junior High School, that move alone will free up enough parking spaces with no further expense to the town. All the town employees will leave the present lot behind Town Hall. Additional spaces will be freed up as people doing business at Town Hall will now be parking at the new town offices. We gain the additional benefit of parking behind the present Town Hall which is close to the stores. Further parking can be gained by simply moving the commuter bus stop to the depot area, thus removing commuter autos from the town parking lot.

Our Town Manager wasn't here when we voted for, and then re-affirmed, Proposition 2½, so maybe he doesn't realize yet that we really meant it. If we are going to cut out unnecessary spending, this parking garage scheme is a prime candidate to be cut.

Objection Registered

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I wish to register the strongest possible objection to the decision of the school committee to begin the abolition of the traditional program.

As a clinical psychologist at Harvard Medical School and McLean Hospital whose special area is the study of normal psychological development in children and adolescents, I feel that the so-called "contemporary track" is exactly what elementary-school age children do not need.

In the course of teaching psychiatrists and medical students about normal child development, we have included a broad survey of readings in both theory and research. While there are few "knowns" in the field of child development, there is remarkable agreement among researchers and theorists that children up to the age of 11 need, both at home and school, (a) a primary figure with whom to relate and identify, and (b) basically small group experience to develop a sense of their own membership, meaning and competency that will serve them in good stead in all the various subsequent group memberships throughout their lifetime.

In his report for the Presidential Commission on Education, Coleman made the above two points, stressing that a healthy identification with education develops for young children out of an identification with one teacher each year. The content of their education is almost secondary during these years to the development of an educational orientation. Following age 11, children probably do their best in school atmospheres which provide a variety of teacher-specialists rather than one primary figure for each grade level. However, to aim to provide one primary figure for children between ages 5 and 11 is in my estimation to act irresponsibly, unless it can be demonstrated to be otherwise.

Clearly for the past years the received wisdom promulgated by Dr. Seifert has been toward the entrenchment of the Contemporary approach and a devaluation of the Traditional program. No matter how many times the truth is pointed out to the school committee, for example, they continue to regard the Traditional program as essentially for children with special educational needs.

Otherwise, they see Traditional as something elected by very conservative parents. Our children are not special needs children, and we as parents happen to be fairly left-liberal. We placed our children in the Traditional program because we felt that it best provided for their natural developmental needs at that age, and that it provided the best social setting for them to develop a sense of themselves as citizens in a society in which they could take an active part. Coleman points out, in a survey of a wide spectrum of educational research, that students educated in larger groups and in a more depersonalized teaching structure lose their interest in education in later years, and also fail to develop a sense of their active role as citizens in later life, both in a political sense and in terms of any sense of their active role as change agents in job or social groups in later life.

While we have felt that the Andover schools were embarked in a profoundly ill-advised direction these past years, we were happy to educate our children here as long as a more appropriate alternative was available. We swallowed the contempt for Traditional parents and programs expressed by Dr. Seifert and the school committee as inevitable in a town where people seem to see different opinions as a sign of neuroticism. We have made a major commitment in striking roots in Andover, one not easily undone. However, I cannot understate the feeling of betrayal at this action of the school committee.

"Our Priorities"

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

In several recent issues of the Andover TOWNSMAN, much has been printed relating to cutting the school budget. It seems everyone has ideas on cutting school costs—why not cut elsewhere? I have a question, can we afford the long-term consequences of cutting education? I consider education a top asset of a community and a wise investment indeed. List the reasons that make you feel proud to live in this town—where does education appear on your list? Do we seek excellence in education and constantly talk cutting its funding.

How many citizens of Andover are strongly in favor of spending $2 million (town's share) for a parking garage? Would this benefit out-of-town commuters? Beyond merchants, how many citizens would prefer "center development" at the expense of educational cuts? As an example, is it too expensive to maintain the traditional school program at a cost of $40,000? This proposal deals with the saving of two teacher salaries. The average income in Andover is twice that much. How many students and parents would be adversely affected by this cut?

Dr. Seifert has provided outstanding leadership. I for one do not mind investing tax dollars to maintain and improve an outstanding school system, even if it means that I must spend another 60 seconds to find a parking space downtown. Lastly, what about the dollars spent developing Elm Square, and to think I paid for it!

Disturbed

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I have just finished reading the article in the Andover TOWNSMAN about the proposed budget cuts, one in particular is the traditional program. I am very disturbed about the fact that if this program is canceled my children will not be able to receive a good education in Andover any longer. My daughter is presently in kindergarten at Bancroft School. I feel that she is not getting the fine education that Andover was so noted for. I know that I am not the only one who feels that this open concept is not a good structural environment for our children to learn in.

Last week I inquired about changing my daughter and son, who will be entering into school this year, into the traditional program—somewhere that they might be able to learn with a teacher in front of the class and all the children doing the same thing. I cannot understand how you expect children to learn the basics that they will need to know in their school years when half the children are not supervised (how can they be when the teacher pupil ratio is rising) or are playing on a jungle gym inside the classroom (in gym I can see this, but not in the classroom). This may only be in kindergarten, but what other distraction will they encounter in the other grades, or when the children are split up into five different groups in one room and are all supposed to be concentrating on what they were assigned to do (I know at that age I could not concentrate on something I was doing if someone else was painting or playing, it was a distracting influence) or holding classes out in the hall which I have witnessed when I have visited Bancroft School.

I see nothing wrong with the way that I was educated in the Andover schools and I don't think the people in the business world who are now doctors, lawyers, mayors, etc., feel that they were not educated properly in the Andover School System. Andover schools were rated very good, but in my mind it had dropped considerably with all the budget cuts. You are not only cutting our programs, but you are cutting out valuable education out of our children's lives, yet you find it necessary to build a new media center and say that we don't have the money to keep all the teachers that we should have. What use will the media center have when our children won't be able to read the books in it because you are cutting out the important part of education, the teachers. The books by themselves would be useless. If the trend stays the same as it has been going for the last couple of years what will we have in five years. I think it is a sorry state that we have allowed education to take a back seat in our lives, when it is something that we will need if we are to succeed in this world.

'Pick Up My Garbage'

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I used to love Andover. It was a fine town, complete with garbage pickup and recycling every other week. Unfortunately, when things work too well, someone gets greedy.

Last week the TOWNSMAN carried an article which stated that one out of every three houses separates newspapers from other household rubbish to recycle during the garbage pickup. (That alone is fantastic!) However, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony proposed that all residents separate newspapers from other rubbish. The penalty for non-compliance: "Offenders rubbish would not be picked up."

C'mon, Ken. Who gave you the right to tell me what I can't throw away? Will you refuse to pick up my rubbish if I throw away an old pair of socks instead of giving them to Goodwill?

The volunteer recycling system makes money for Andover, and that's good. It's money well spent for the good of everyone. But, don't tell me "I have to or else." If this becomes law, instead of a future tax reduction for Andover residents, you will have to hire additional help to see "who does" and "who doesn't."

Most of us are aware of another Andover proposal stating Andover residents must use Andover bags instead of other garbage bags because Andover bags are made of a higher quality than "bargain brands." Makes sense until I found Andover bags cost 25¢ each and are no better than Hefty's, available at half the cost.

Please, Andover, leave my garbage alone! And would you please pick it up?

Hot Issues, Tough Decisions

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

At budget time hot issues abound and tough decisions have to be made.

Some members of the elementary Grassroots Committees, who met in the fall to evaluate their respective schools, want to clarify our responsibilities and charge. We were to report on the strengths and weaknesses of curriculum areas, the consistency of services, provisions for meeting the needs of various learning styles, and the appropriateness of the curriculum for the needs of today's students.

All four groups concluded that our system has sustained high quality in spite of fiscal restraints, and in reality, we wanted more, not less. We were not given the tough task of making choices. We were not asked to evaluate programs in each other's schools, nor set priorities for budgetary cuts.

It's true, the students are the losers because cuts are being made in all areas and someone has to make the decisions. It is now a fact of life that we cannot meet the needs of each student individually as we have in the past. It is essential that we all pull together; the Grassroots Committees went a long way in this regard by examining what we have and want, and by working well together with teachers and parents.

We came up with a positive statement about our system; how we want to keep the channels open so teachers, parents, citizens, School Committee members and administrators can continue the dialogue as we "bite the bullet" and make the tough choices.

Aides Duties Explained

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The Andover Aides Organization would like to share with the town our position and presentation to the School Committee on March 1, 1983. Since the Citizens Study Group had requested more aide time, we felt the town was aware of our contribution to education. However, when we saw the drastic cut in aide hours, it appeared to us that the School Committee is not aware of the true value of aides to the educational system.

WHAT AIDES DO — Our major thrust is in the Language Arts and the math programs. Having an aide available enables a teacher to group children according to individual needs. These groups are for the reinforcement of skills, provide an avenue for extra work, added drill in both areas and general encouragement and motivation in small groups. We feel that the dramatic rise in achievement scores in the mid-70s was, at least partially, the result of this differentiation of instruction.

Another aspect of our job is recordkeeping and correction. During the mid-70s, when aides were working 18 hours per teacher, by far the greater number of hours was spent interacting with students. Much of the paper work was done while students were involved in other subjects rather than language arts and math. Now that the hours are down to nine per teacher, the essential recordkeeping has taken a far greater percentage of the time than the hours spent interacting with students.

WHO ARE AIDES? — Many aides are certified or certifiable teachers. Not all are college graduates, but most have at least

Pending jobs bill has a pork-barrel odorBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- The emergency jobs bill now under consideration by Congress will provide $4.6 billion for make-work projects. No one can deny the need for putting the unemployed back to work. But who will get the jobs that the bill will create?

About $100 million will be spent for mass-transit projects. Almost all of it will go to the home districts of the congressmen who handle the appropriations. A few examples:

-- The jobs bill will give Dade County, Fla., $33.8 million. Who comes from Dade County? Democratic Rep. William Lehman, the chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation. This is the subcommittee that decides what specific transportation projects will be funded by the jobs bill.

-- The home districts of two other subcommittee members will also hit the jackpot -- Rep. Martin Sabo, D-Minn., and Rep. William Gray, D-Pa. Sabo's district will get $4.1 million under the jobs bill; Gray's district will get $7.7 million.

-- The chairman of the House Appropriations Committee is Democrat Jamie Whitten. He represents northern Mississippi. A committee aide told our reporter Kelley Griffin that the language of the jobs bill doesn't earmark money for northern Mississippi. But our sources say that is precisely where a big bundle of money is going: $33 million will be spent to widen highways in the chairman's backyard.

These projects will create jobs for people who need them, and that is laudable. It is not so laudable that members of Congress treat the legislation as a political pork barrel.

EPA DISARRAY: At the center of the controversy at the Environmental Protection Agency is alleged mismanagement of the $1.6 billion "Superfund" for cleaning up hazardous wastes. One group that has undoubtedly benefited from the confusion is the Mob. Our investigation shows that some of the worst dump sites in the Northeast can be traced to organized crime.

The Mob does not dominate the hazardous waste-dumping industry, but it has made serious inroads. Mobsters took over a dump site in Elizabeth, N.J., for example, and stored dangerous wastes there. When arsonists destroyed the site, the southern part of Manhattan was almost poisoned.

Our sources say organized crime has also muscled its way into the hazardous-waste industry in Florida and New Mexico. The EPA is acutely aware of the Mob's activities and will hire two dozen additional investigators to help police the industry.

Meanwhile, there is another

EPA program that has been improperly used: The billion-dollar construction-grants program that provides money for state water-treatment projects.

An internal report prepared by the agency's inspector general discloses that EPA officials virtually rubber-stamped contract changes that were worth millions of dollars to contractors. In other words, mistakes made in the construction of water projects were charged to the taxpayers instead of to the companies at fault.

In one study, for example, the inspector general's auditors found that nearly $6 million had been spent to correct design mistakes made by engineering firms.

OIL SCAM: There's trouble brewing with the nation's strategic petroleum reserves -- the oil that is purchased by the federal government and stored for use in case of emergency. Investigators on the state and local level have discovered massive fraud within the program.

Construction contractors, the investigators believe, have bilked the federal government. Crude oil destined for the reserve has apparently been stolen and replaced with waste oil mixed with sand, water and chemical wastes. Our sources believe that some 18 companies may be involved.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: The Justice Department's pursuit of young men who have failed to register for the draft is causing headaches for the investigators who are trying to track them down. Some of the "draft evaders" who have been found have a good excuse for not registering -- they're already in the armed forces. A sample survey of those who haven't signed up indicates that as many as 7,500 of the estimated 500,000 men who have failed to register may already be in uniform.

-- Buoyed by Harold Washington's recent upset victory in the Chicago mayoral primaries, black leaders are talking about running a favorite-son candidate in next year's presidential primaries. According to New Mexico's Democratic governor, Toney Anaya, Hispanics may do the same. The idea would be to win as many delegates as possible to increase the minority groups' influence at the Democratic National Convention.

-- Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Anne Gorsuch was married last month and changed her name to Anne Burford. But, fortunately, the taxpayers won't have to foot the bill for new stationery with the new name. Mrs. Burford's stationery doesn't have a name on it at all -- just the title, "Administrator."

Insufficient storage space in many bathrooms may be due, not to their small size, but to the inefficient use of existing space. Common ways to combat the problem of storage space includes the use of hanging wall cabinets, cabinets that fit between studs, towel ladders, pole shelves and the utilization of the space beneath the wash basin. By moving the toilet forward by a mere foot, there is generally adequate room created to install a floor-to-ceiling built-in wall cabinet. Pole shelves may be installed without moving the toilet. Common storage space for accessories is a medicine cabinet. Its adjustable shelves can accommodate a variety of things.

West Parish Clinches Fourth Title

By Rick Harrison

Sparked by a sensational 22-point performance from Kevin Henderson, West Parish A fought back a determined effort by Christ Church enroute to a hard-fought 37-29 victory that clinched its fourth straight Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Gold Division championship.

The triumph enabled West A to boost its overall record to 9-0, giving the champs an insurmountable two-game lead over second place St. Robert's B (7-2) with only one game remaining (played earlier this week).

It also marked the 28th straight win for West A teams, whose Gold Division records the past four years have been 9-2, 11-1, 10-0 and 9-0.

In other Gold action at West Elementary last week, St. Robert's B nudged St. Robert's A 23-19 and St. Augustine's B trimmed St. Augustine's A 21-6.

The battle for individual division scoring honors went to the wire. With one game remaining Mark Tucker of Christ Church led at 112 points, but close behind were Mark Russell of St. Augustine's B at 109 and Matt Gibson of West Parish A at 107.

Rounding out the top scorers were Kevin Henderson of West A at 95 points, Dave Vickers of West A 76, Joe Massaro of St. Robert's B 59 and John Russell of Christ Church at 57.

West Parish A 37-29

West A, which had a season-opening 38-29 struggle against Christ Church, fell behind 6-0 early in the first quarter and trailed 8-4 at period's end.

Dave Lewis led the C-C attack with four points, while Mark Tucker and Steffan Tomlinson added single baskets. Buckets by Kevin Henderson and Dave Vickers were the only answering fire for West Parish A.

PeeWee B Team Earns Tourney Berth

To Compete In State Tournament

After defeating Ipswich 6-0, Danvers 7-1, and Lynn 6-1, the Andover PeeWee B team suffered a heartbreaking loss to powerful Triton, 5-3.

In the final game the entire team came out flying and, when Duke McNamara scored on a great pass from Derek Camarota, it appeared no one could stop them. Only great goaltending prevented Andover from scoring again in the final minutes of play. Triton was having trouble in the first period getting the puck out of their own end due to the hustling of Randy Moreau, Mike Tiberii and Tim Sullivan.

Triton ended the score at 1-1 at the end of the first period. However, they came to life in the second period, outskated Andover, and had three quick unanswered goals.

Much to Andover's credit they never gave up and came alive in the third period. Taking risks, they scored on Chip Stella's goal after a feed from Glenn Farnham. Triton played the third period cautiously and continually iced the puck.

The two teams exchanged another goal each as Farnham, assisted by Zack Bensley and Tiberii, scored with minutes remaining.

Andover's success in this tournament enables them to play in the state tourney. Coach Ed Chaisson, assisted by Luke Camarota and Dick Roycroft, direct the team.

Andover Bantam Team Greet Oshawa Blues

The Andover Bantam hockey team greeted their guests from Oshawa, Canada, at the Wilmington Rink Friday for a 4 o'clock game. Other games were played at Phillips Academy on Saturday and Sunday mornings. The playing of the Canadian and American National Anthems and the exchange of gifts preceded Sunday's game. The coaches of both teams agreed the coaching by referees Todd Pomaleau, Doug Guittar, Fran Ferrara, Larry DiSteffano and Bruce Crawford was excellent.

Andover 2
Oshawa 2

The Canadian Corp. Blue team arrived from Oshawa about 20 minutes before game time. They actually arrived before their jerseys; as a result they wore the white jerseys of the Andover team. Andover was quick to take advantage of the Blues before they could get their game legs. Capt. George Heseltine converted a net pass from Cort Pomeroy at the 3:00 minute mark of the first period. Within 60 seconds the Blues tied the game. Bob Pothier performed very well in the nets. Greg Najjar played goal for the second period as the Andover team was blanked 1-0. Andover tied the game early in the third period with Ken Young guarding the nets. Glenn Allard clinched the tie after taking a pass from David Young.

Andover 7
Oshawa 6

After a good night's rest the Blues scored in the first period at 1:23, but Andover was on the scoreboard at the 53-second mark as Tim Donovan took a short pass from Paul Gilmartin and slid it past the goalie. Greg Najjar replaced Bob Pothier in goal in the second period. Both teams opened up with an all-out offensive attack. Seven goals were scored as play moved up and down the ice with only two penalties being called. Andover was outscored 4-3. Scoring for Andover were David Young from Glenn Allard, Cort Pomeroy from George Heseltine and a super unassisted goal by defenseman David Curtis. With Ken Young in goal, Andover tied the game at the beginning of the third period on a play that started in the Andover end. Allard passed up the boards to Young who passed across to left wing Jamie O'Brien. Allard continued down the right wing side to take a sharp pass from O'Brien and beat the Oshawa goalie. Not to be outdone, Oshawa scored again at 11:21. With great forechecking and continuing pressure from Jeff McNeil, Paul Gilmartin, Tim Donovan and the defensive pair of Matt Shine and Peter Trede, the Oshawa team began to wear down. With 3:55 remaining Andover put on a great passing display in the offensive end. Dave Bartle started the play in the left corner, passing behind the net to Cort Pomeroy who hit Heseltine in the slot and he easily scored to tie the game. At the end of regulation time both coaches agreed to a 10-minute "sudden death" period—first team to score—wins. With the momentum in Andover's favor, Heseltine broke over the blue line, passed quickly to Pomeroy on the right side and, as the goalie moved to cover the corner, Pomeroy slid a fast pass back to Heseltine who blasted home the game winner.

Andover 4
Oshawa 3

The four-game series was now squared at 1 win, 1 tie and 1 loss for each team. Both teams were prepared for another fast skating, hard hitting and well played game. Greg Najjar, Bob Pothier and Ken Young would play one period each in goal for Andover. The Blues scored first at the 6:30 mark of the first period and made it hold up until only 44 second remained in the second period when the hard working and smooth passing line of O'Brien, Young and Allard went to work. Dave Young ended up with a wide open net to shoot at and quickly tied the game. With 27 seconds remaining, Co-capt. Chris Sappucco roared in from the left point and, using Glenn Allard as a decoy, whistled home the go-ahead goal. The third period was exciting as Andover went ahead 4-1 on goals by George Heseltine from defenseman Matt Shine and a well-screened shot by Earl Abdo after a quick pass from the left corner by Dave Bartle. Oshawa scored two more goals, but Andover played strongly to win the series.

Andover tightened its hold on third place in the Wilmington League Sunday night. With Greg Najjar and Ken Young sharing the goal, Andover led all the way. Cort Pomeroy tipped in a hard shot from Chris Sappucco for goal number one. Dave Young upped the score as he broke in alone on a pass from Glenn Allard. After a session of hard forechecking in the Lowell end by Jeff McNeil and Tim Donovan, Paul Gilmartin intercepted a clearing pass and fired from the right face off circle to score the eventual game winner.

Jamie O'Brien scored the clincher in the third period on passes from Young and Allard. Good defense from Earl Abdo, David Curtis, Matt Shine and Peter Trede helped to spark the win. Next week the Bantams will play in the Arlington Invitational Hockey Tournament against South Boston, Arlington and Burlington.

Doyle Loop in Andover will be the site of the intermediate level cross-country skiing, snowshoeing (or hiking, if there is no snow) outing, on Sunday, March 13, at 1:30 p.m., sponsored by the Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club. ond quarter advantage after fieldgoals by Matt Gibson, Henderson and Vickers.

The champs had inched ahead 18-13 by half-time as Henderson and Gibson both tossed in six second-period points.

The rivals traded baskets in the third stanza, which saw West A cling to a slim three-point lead most of the way before taking a 26-21 advantage into the final quarter.

Henderson produced all eight West A points, while John Russell responded with four to pace Christ.

Henderson and Gibson combined for 10 points in the final period as West Parish A kept C-C at bay but was never able to get a comfortable lead.

Only four players scored for the usually well-balanced winners.

Henderson's 22 points were a personal season high while Gibson chalked up 10 points, Vickers 4 and Chris Kew a free throw.

Also playing well were Chris Lane, Pat Kelley, Keith Abernathy, Stefan Kelly and Dave Carnes.

The tenth member of the championship squad, Craig Costanzo, was unable to play because of illness.

Mark Tucker once again ignited the Christ Church charge with 11 points, Dave Lewis pocketed 6, John Russell 4 and Steffan Tomlinson 4.

Tad Lee and Matt Abernathy tossed in single buckets while other C-C standouts were John Knowles, Bob Ashworth and Mark Angelos.

C-C emerged from the game with a 6-3 overall record.

St. Robert's B 23-19

Joe Massaro pumped through nine first-half points, spearheading St. Robert's B to a 13-9 lead and the victors then traded baskets with intra-church rival St. Robert's A in the second half to ring up their seventh victory in nine games.

For tough-luck SRA it marked the sixth setback this season by margins of five points or less, including a one-pointer and a pair of two-pointers.

Massaro led six St. Robert's B performers into the scoring column with 9 points, Paul DeMarco added 5, Josh Malitsky two key hoops in the fourth period, James Spinelli 2 points, Mike Faraci 2 points and Brad Reghitto one free throw. James Murphy and Jerome Guerard were other top performers for SRB.

The runners-up would have had a shot at tying for the title had they not dropped a tough 21-20 decision to Christ Church in the third game of the year.

Eric Green led St. Robert's A with 6 points, Greg DeVoir netted his 5 in the fourth period and single fieldgoals were contributed by Kevin Foley, Tracy Danner, Tom Sheehan and Steve DeVoir.

St. Augustine's B

Mark Russell and Mike LeBreck fueled the offense and the entire St. Augustine's B team threw a defensive blanket over intra-church foe St. Augustine's A on the way to this low-scoring 21-6 verdict.

Russell produced points in every quarter as he kept his hopes alive for the scoring crown with a game-high 12 markers.

LeBreck pocketed 5 points, Mike Flynn had a bucket in the second quarter and Sean Gill delivered a fourth period fieldgoal for SAB.

Jose Guerra and Matt Dufresne chipped in hustling defensive efforts.

St. Augustine's A received baskets from John Davies, Scott Lanouette and Brian Davies.

Also playing well were Pat Finn and Peter Caruso.

Swimmers Take District Title

Taking the cue from the girls last weekend, the men of the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. swim team captured a district championship and brought home two Division I North first-place trophies.

The medley relay team of Gregg Morava, Dave Bates, Tom Jurgen and Al Dumas captured the event in 1:47.788, the nearly three seconds ahead of the second-place team. Bates also won the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:04.215 and finished second in the 200 yard I.M. in 2:12.270.

Dumas was only a touch out of first in the 50 free with a :23.978 and finished fifth in the 100 free. Jurgen was sixth in the 50 free in :24.666.

Grant Van Aken, Doug Wayland, Dan Paradis and John Piazza were third in the 400 yard freestyle relay in 3:54.338. Piazza was seventh in the 100 free and tenth in the 50, while Wayland was eighth in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Van Aken was seventh in the 50 free and 12th in the 100, while Paradis was 12th in the 50 free.

Paul Gosselin was second in the diving competition as the Class A men captured the Division North title.

In Class B the freestyle relay team of Scott

Bates, Chris Wayland, David Flanders and Brian Cronin finished in third place in 1:49.239. Bates was eighth in the 50 yard freestyle and anchored the 11th place medley relay with Chris Inskeep, Jeff Hart and Eric Friedenson.

Flanders was 11th in the 100 and 200 yard freestyle events while Cronin finished seventh in the 100 yard breaststroke and 11th in the 200 yard I.M. Friedenson was 11th in the 50 free.

Tom Graham earned a pair of fourths in Class C in the 200 I.M. and 100 yard freestyle. J.B. Burgess was fourth in the diving competition with Todd Bilodeau sixth.

The freestyle relay of Vinnie Bates, David Inskeep, Burgess and Graham were eighth.

Matt MacVicar led the Class D boys to a third-place finish in districts when he set a new district record in the preliminaries of the 50 yard breaststroke. His time of :36.7 broke a nine-year-old record. He also swam on the second-place medley relay with Dan Lennon, Chris Hart and Paul Mitchell.

Lennon was fourth in the 50 yard backstroke while Hart was fifth in the 50 free and 50 butterfly. Sean Herlihy was ninth in the 50 back and swam on the ninth-place free relay with Craig Deranian, Robbie Crane and Brad Cronin.

The Class E men were Division I North champions and fifth overall in the district championships.

Matt Jennings led the way winning the 25 yard backstroke in :18.114 and finishing second in the 100 yard I.M. in 1:26.473. He also swam on the second-place free relay with Andre Koerckel, Adam Galaburda and Peter Master.

Koerckel was fourth in the 50 yard freestyle and fifth in the 100 yard I.M.

while Galaburda was seventh in the 50 free. Master was third in the 25 free and fifth in the 25 yard butterfly.

The medley relay of Adam Robb, Jamie Estabrooks, Johnny Dwight and Drew Paradis was tenth.

PeeWee B

Wilmington League

Andover 6 - Lawrence 1

Andover coasted to its fifth consecutive win over a team higher in the standings.

After a scoreless first period which had both teams missing scoring opportunities, Duke McNamara scored on a pass from Glenn Farnham and Derek Camarota. Andover's second goal was a backhanded shot from Farnham which took a freak hop over the Lawrence goalie's stick.

Zack Bensley jammed a rebound in for the third goal with assists going to Farnham and Lou LoPresti.

Defensemen Chip Stella, Danny Iandoli, Glen Driscoll and Todd Roycroft did an excellent job of protecting Tim Lane and Ian Anderson during the first and second periods.

In the third period Camarota tipped in Andover's fourth goal on a great feed from McNamara.

LoPresti, Tim Sullivan and Mike Tiberii put constant pressure in the Lawrence end.

Farnham scored his second goal, unassisted, to make it 5-1. Lawrence scored its only goal on a great move by forwards to spoil Andover's shutout.

McNamara rounded out the scoring by hustling down ice and tipping in a rebound from Camarota's backhand.

Andover 4 - Wilmington 2

The PeeWee B team bounced back from their heartbreaking loss in the District Finals to defeat the first-place team in the strong Wilmington League. Coach Ed Chaisson was concerned that his team might have trouble, but Derek Camarota got Andover on the scoreboard first after a scoreless first period. After a great rush by Duke McNamara, Camarota stuffed a shot on the goalie's stickside. After this goal Andover never gave up the lead. Wilmington answered with a goal on an individual effort by a forward. Glenn Farnham made a great move after defenseman Chip Stella's rush and fired a hard shot in the upper left-hand corner.

Due to an injury to Todd Roycroft, defensemen Glen Driscoll, Stella and Danny Iandoli did double duty and performed very well. Goalies Tim Lane and Ian Anderson, once again, were outstanding in the nets.

Wilmington never let the game get out of hand and made the score 3-2 at the end of the second period.

Randy Moreau, Mike Tiberii, Zack Bensley and Tim Sullivan played both ways and had numerous scoring opportunities.

McNamara teamed with Stella to make the final score 4-2 and Andover came away with a well-deserved win.

Danvers League

Andover 4 - Reading 5

Andover was seeking its sixth consecutive victory and took a last minute goal by the leader of the Danvers League to stop Andover's streak.

Lou LoPresti put Andover ahead by stuffing the puck by the Reading goalie. The first goal was an indication of the game's tempo as Tim Sullivan and Mike Tiberii were determined as they fought for position in front of the net.

Reading answered quickly as their forwards caught the defense up ice twice and the first period ended 2-1.

Randy Moreau, who played an outstanding game, fired the puck past the goalie after a great rush by Derek Camarota to tie it up early in the second period. Reading showed why they have only lost three games this year as they scored at the end of the second period and the beginning of the third.

Andover never gave up. Forwards LoPresti, Sullivan, Tiberii, Glenn Farnham, Zack Bensley and Duke McNamara displayed endurance which was not evident in the beginning of the season.

With Tim Lane making some key saves, Camarota scored a goal when a pass from Tiberii hit his skate and slid into the net to make it 4-3. Moments later he made it 4-4 when he slapped a shot by the Reading goalie after a shot by Moreau.

Andover, not willing to get away with a tie, gambled and lost by not covering up. A forward from Reading picked the puck up at his own blue line, passed to a teammate who made the score 5-4 on a great rush.

Gridder To Address Hoopsters

South Church will honor its youth basketball players at the third annual Pot Luck Banquet in the church's Fellowship Hall Saturday, March 12. Each year players who have participated in the Andover Church Basketball League and their parents and friends gather to recognize the dedication and accomplishments of the teams and their coaches.

This year Pete Brock, offensive center for the New England Patriots, will speak on his values as a Christian athlete. Brock, an early round draft pick out of Colorado, has become a steady and consistent part of the strong Patriot offensive line. He will sign autographs and answer questions.

Ed Rouillard, basketball coordinator for South Church, hopes this event will let the players know how much they are appreciated, and also challenge them as they hear a respected athlete talk about his own faith.

Ballardvale A downed St. Augustine's D 28-12 and St. Robert's F stopped South B 25-5 in last week's Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division action at the West Junior High and South School gyms.

The results, with two weeks remaining, left idle South A (8-0) in first place with St. Robert's E one game behind (7-1) and fast closing St. Robert's D in third place (6-2).

The Intermediate Blue Division will hold a foul-shooting contest to conclude the league's activities on Monday, March 21, from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the West Jr. High gym.

St. Robert's E 31-25

Matt Perry poured through 15 points as St. Robert's E won a hard-earned decision over tough St. Robert's C.

The E-team spotted the C-crew a 10-5 first quarter lead, then inched ahead 14-13 at halftime and 26-23 after three periods.

A 5-2 last quarter run iced the game as Mike Cincotta dumped in three points.

Dan French chipped in 4 points for the winners, Chris Landers 3, Mike Cincotta 3, Matt Moynihan and Martine Kelley netted single baskets and Jeff Landry swished two free throws.

Mike Hein and Derek Weitz also played well for the C-squad.

Ballardvale B 30-23

Steve Hanley pumped in 12 points, including ten in the first half, to lead Ballardvale B to its fifth win in eight games.

Ballardvale B and West Parish B were locked in an 8-8 tie after one period, but the winners outscored their foe 14-4 in the second quarter to take a 22-12 halftime lead.

West B, behind the accurate shooting of John Hess, closed the gap in the second half, outscoring their opponent 11-8.

Devon Arsenault had 8 points for Ballardvale B, Jason Blandini 4, Steven Smith, John Pironi and Bobby Nutter each had single baskets.

Bartley Parker, Mike Kalil and Alan Hanley also played well.

Chris Gray tossed through 10 points for West B, including eight in the first half, John Hess 7, all in the second half, Joanne Hohn 4 and Fred Hohn 2.

Reed Newton was a defensive stalwart for West B.

St. Robert's D 41-23

Eight players contributed to the balanced offense as St. Robert's D took sole possession third place by winning over Temple Emanuel 5-3.

SRD led 16-10 after one quarter and stretched their advantage to 21-13 at halftime and 33-21 after three periods.

John Mattola emerged as game-high marksman with 8 points, Scott Friese, Steven Knight, Marc Selvitelli and Ed Sheehan netted 6 apiece, Eric Hammond added 5, Brett Hammond 3 and George Willard notched a free throw.

Matt Jacques also turned in a steady performance for St. Rob-

St. Augustine's C 16-10

St. Augustine's C played near perfect basketball for the first three periods to post their second victory of the season.

SAC moved ahead 6-0 after one quarter, stretched the lead to 10-2 at half time and 16-2 after three quarters.

Christ B staged a furious rally in the final stanza outscoring their rivals 8-0 but the deficit was too large to overcome.

Jonathan Lewis, Dennis Grogan and Greg Shepard shared scoring honors for St. Augustine's C with 4 points apiece, while solo buckets were scored by Eric Horton and Tom DeBenedictis.

Squirt A's Roll Along

The Andover Squirt A hockey team continues to play well as it heads into the last month of the season. After beating No. Andover in the state tourney, they were eliminated in the semi-finals, dropping a heart-breaking game in overtime to Lynnfield.

Marblehead 0

Andover completely controlled this game. Gary Bleszinski got Andover on the board only three minutes into the game as he intercepted a clearing pass and rifled a 20-footer past the Marblehead goalie. One minute later Brian Lane went the length of the ice and beat the goalie on an outstanding fake for a 2-0 lead. The lead remained 2-0 at the end of one period despite heavy pressure applied by Andover, especially the line of Bryan Smith, Colin Nex and Kevin Smith.

Michael DiStefano scored at 7:48 in the second period as he fired one home after being set up in front by nice passing between Sean Darwin and Eddie Chaisson. Darwin scored minutes later as he rushed from center ice and wristed one into the top corner unassisted. Jimmy Morris fired several bullets on net just prior to the end of the period, however, Marblehead's goalie made nice saves on all of them.

Chaisson upped the score to 5-0 in the third period after being sent in alone on a nice pass by Peter Arthur. DiStefano completed the score with his second goal with only three minutes remaining; Chaisson picked up his second assist on the play.

Jonathan Shine and Todd Allard played steady defense throughout the game as did Lane and Arthur. The defense was so good that Mike Murnane and Michelle DiStefano had a relatively easy time in recording the shutout.

Andover 5

No. Andover 2

Andover and No. Andover hooked up in a tight checking, playoff-type hockey game for two-and-a-half periods before Andover exploded for four goals in the last period for a 5-2 come-from-behind win.

The first period was scoreless as Andover's defense of Peter Arthur, Todd Allard, Jonathan Shine and Brian Lane played brilliantly in front of goalie Mike Murnane. None the less, Murnane was called on several times to make difficult saves. The offense put a great deal of pressure on the No. Andover goalie, most notably blistering shots by Gary Bleszinski, Jimmy Morris and Kevin Smith. The No. Andover netminder was equal to the task however, leaving the score 0-0 at the end of first period.

The second period was much the same. No. Andover scored first at 6:53 of the period with Andover scoring one minute later as Eddie Chaisson converted a Michael DiStefano pass to tie the score. No. Andover pushed ahead again before the period ended to take a 2-1 lead.

Andover shifted gears in the third period and totally dominated the final 12 minutes. Brian Lane tied the score on a beautiful breakaway after taking a lead pass from Bryan Smith. Two minutes later Mark Sean Darwin whistled the eventual game winner into the top corner with Chaisson picking up the assist.

St. Augustine B Completes Season In Style

By Rick Harrison

St. Augustine B completed its Andover Church Basketball League Senior Division season in style this past week, picking up a pair of victories to finish runner-up to undefeated West Parish with a fine 8-1 overall record.

The second place club, whose lone setback was a tough two-pointer to West Parish early in the year, nipped St. Robert's A 37-33 in overtime and then handled Temple Emanuel 34-26 in its finale.

St. Robert's B, division titlists the past two years, nailed down third place this season with a convincing 60-19 romp over Christ Church.

In other action at the West Junior High gym, St. Robert's C hurdled Ballardvale United, 34-25, and St. Augustine A ran roughshod over South, 47-16.

The top teams in the Senior Division are West Parish at 9-0, St. Augustine B at 8-1, St. Robert's B at 7-2 and St. Robert's A at 5-3.

One game remains on the schedule, with St. Robert's A slated to face Temple Emanuel next Monday night. The annual division foul shooting contest was staged earlier this week.

St. Augustine B, 37-33 (ot)

Dave Argiropoulos netted the only two baskets of the overtime period, lifting St. Augustine B to its tough triumph over scrappy St. Robert's A.

St. Robert's A led 11-8 after one quarter, St. Augustine B inched ahead 21-20 at halftime, the score was tied 27-27 at the close of three periods, and the two rivals were still knotted 33-33 at the end of regulation.

That set the stage for Argiropoulos' heroics.

Tim Scanlon shared game-high scoring honors for the winners with 17 points, Argiropoulos added 10 and Chip Finneran 5.

Matt Aumais and Rich Burke contributed single baskets, while Steve McGettrick converted an important free throw in the final stanza.

Andy Thompson played another strong floor game for SAB.

John Perry once again sparked St. Robert's A with 17 points, while twin standouts Gary and Cliff Marotta chipped in 10 and 6 points respectively.

Others playing well for the hard-luck losers were Steve Veilleux, Larry Middleton and Ed Kupa.

St. Augustine B, 34-26

St. Augustine B came back two nights later to slip past an undermanned Temple Emanuel crew, erasing a 7-4 first period deficit by outgunning Temple 26-12 over the middle two quarters.

Once again SAB placed two men in double figures, with Dave Argiropoulos pumping through 12 points and Rich Burke netting 10.

Andy Thompson and Tim Scanlon added 6 points each, Scanlon doing all his damage in the third period, and Matt Burke also played well.

The victors were missing several key people, including Chip Finneran, Matt Aumais and Dan Beckerman.

Temple Emanuel (3-5), minus the services of high-scoring Stu Leinson (sprained ankle), received a balanced attack led by Geoff Bolan with 8 points, Eric Shanker with 7, Wayne Altman with 5 and Erik Frank 4 points.

Ron Rosenberg also popped in a fieldgoal, while solid defensive performances were added by Steve Weiner and Eric Bucholz.

Myles Greenberg and Sam Brooks were also unable to play for Temple.

St. Robert's B, 60-19 St. Robert's B collected its 20th victory in the last 22 games, spanning portions of three seasons, as it raced past Christ Church (2-7).

The winners bolted to a 12-6 lead, stretched it to 16-8 by halftime, and exploded for 44 points in the final half.

Chris Argerio and Bob Dziadosz were double trouble for St. Robert's B, pouring through 20 points apiece, while Kevin Byrne notched 11 points, Chris Concemi 7 and Jerry Hand a deuce.

Jay Labadini was another standout for SRB. Glenn Livermore continued his steady and sturdy play for C-C, pocketing 13 points, while solo buckets were contributed by Andy Frost, Chris Scanlon and Bob Beanland.

Brad Wright, Adam Smith and Gretchen Suchodolski were other top players for Christ Church.

St. Robert's C, 34-25

Prolific Greg Kobelski capped a fine individual season by pouring through a game-high 21 points, igniting St. Robert's C to its 34-25 conquest of Ballardvale United.

The triumph enabled SRC to finish with a 4-5 overall ledger, while improved Ballardvale gave everyone it played a good run over the second half of the campaign.

John Williams added 4 points for the victors,

Rajiv Sheel buried 3 points, Billy Dutton and Mike Klinger had fieldgoals, and John Slavin swished a brace of fourth quarter foul shots.

WHEN YOU FORGET TO TURN OFF YOUR LIGHTS
A SAAB DOESN'T.

Have you ever forgotten to turn off your headlights? It's a common oversight. Happens to everyone.

Yet most car manufacturers treat this rather severely. The punishment they impose on you may well be a dead battery.

At Saab, we have a more forgiving attitude. Our cars are designed to compensate for an occasional memory lapse.

When you turn off a Saab's ignition, the headlights also go off. Automatically. So your battery can rest comfortably until it's needed again.

Intelligent engineering does have its advantages.

two years of college and some have master degrees. Many have taken one or more In-Service courses per year to keep up with current topics, such as language labs, math labs, handicapped awareness programs, learning disabilities in both language and math and behavior modification. Aides take these courses on their own time even though their only reward is a completion slip in their personal files.

WHY DO THEY DO IT? — Not primarily for the money, since a domestic cleaning woman in the Town of Andover makes about 1½ times as much as our most experienced rate. Aides do all this for a small hourly wage and for the personal satisfaction of seeing children learn. With the reinforcement aspect, we are working on the cutting edge of education—right where the learning takes place. Most of us also identify with and gain satisfaction from being a part of a quality school system.

HOW MUCH DOES THIS COST? — Of the school budget of 12-13 million dollars, aides cost about $400,000 or about three percent of the school budget. For this amount the Town of Andover receives over 58 to 60 thousand hours of education contacts and benefits. This includes media health, instructional and teacher aides.

With Dr. Seifert's permission, we would like to invite one member, or all of the School Committee, to follow an aide for a day to see exactly what we do. We are sure any such visit will convince the School Committee of the true significant value of aides to the Andover School System and will encourage them to maintain the present level or increase the level of aide time as recommended by the Citizens Study Group and the Grass Roots Committee.

We are also concerned with quality instruction and feel that there is a great difference in flexibility and learning results between one teacher with 25 students and one teacher plus 12-15 hours of aide time with 25 students.

Tell them you needed the luggage space. Saab gives you a full 56.5 cubic feet when you flip down the back seat (53 in 4-door models).

Or talk about the front seat, explaining the merits of its orthopedic design and the fact that it's electrically heated for the wintertime.

Speaking of the wintertime, you could also point out the front-wheel drive, 15-inch wheels and Pirelli radials, all of which make snow driving easier.

We could go on and on. So could you.

But you'll never have to let them know what happens when you press the accelerator.

That is, unless the guy in the next lane really needs to find out.

In order to promote the general safety and well being of those people travelling on the public ways of Andover, it is hoped that the below-stated rules of common sense be heeded:

1. Runner, walkers and bicyclists who are on the public roads during the hours of darkness should utilize reflective material which gives an indication of their presence front and back to oncoming motor vehicles.
2. Consistent with safety, runners and walkers are asked to stay to the side of the roads, face traffic when possible, and not obstruct traffic flow.
3. Drivers of motor vehicles encountering runners, walkers, and bicyclists should take reasonable steps to ensure the safety of these individuals as well as their own safety by slowing down as conditions necessitate.

Anyone not complying with these rules should consider himself to be reckless, fatuous, and uncaring of others.

LAND USE RESTRICTIONS

The matter of land use restrictions and controls with regard to real estate is quite interesting. Hundreds of years ago when private controls were usually in effect, property owners sometimes sold or gave away land with unusual and humorous restrictions. The seller might say that cows could only graze on the rear portion of the land! Or, he might specify that any building erected on the property and subsequently sold could only be sold to people who abstained from alcoholic beverages!

The landmark year for subdivision restrictions was 1848, when developers could set up restrictions regarding types of homes that could be built on their lots. Courts upheld these restrictions to the extent of allowing lot owners to get court orders preventing other lot owners from going against those restrictions.

Gradually, private controls gave way to public controls, and in 1926 the U. S. Supreme Court effectively made zoning ordinances valid. These zoning ordinances serve the public welfare and protect homeowners from offensive use of adjoining property.

routes into town. "We're just concerned that we'll lose the residential aspect of the neighborhood," he said, adding that delivery trucks heading for downtown businesses would also travel Whittier.

And Selectman Donn Byrne noted that building a pedestrian mall would make it difficult for businesses to accept deliveries from large trucks.

The manager replied that while he could not disagree with any of those concerns, "we're still deeply in the planning stages." He explained that the current emphasis is on getting town meeting to approve the land swap and $2 million appropriation: more detailed plans will come later.

But he pointed out that a shopping center at the Heartland site would be "worse than a garage" for the neighbors, while the three-level garage would take all-day parkers off Florence and Whittier streets, leaving more neighborhood parking.

The merchants agreed with Mahony that the first priority is persuading town meeting to approve the plan. Jaymes said the merchants will meet with neighbors to explain why they believe the plan is worth approving, even if it needs modifications.

Residents
To Meet

Residents of downtown neighborhoods will meet at 7:30 tonight at the Doherty Junior High School cafeteria to discuss plans for a parking garage and shopping center behind Town Hall.

Neighbors are concerned that plans for possibly closing part of Park, Barnard and Bartlet streets to create a pedestrian mall could cause safety and traffic problems along residential streets like Whittier, Florence, Chestnut and Bartlet streets.

James Fraser of Whittier Street will chair the meeting.

Leather-bound books will benefit from periodic applications of saddle soap, neat-foot oil or petroleum jelly.
